Brief History of Hart's Location

The oldest town records were lost, those at hand, being records of marriages, births and deaths, by Clerks Hiram Parker, James E. Mitchell and M. B. Murch, and records of Town meetings, etc., by James E. Mitchell and M. B. Murch. Under these circumstances, it was voted at annual meeting that the Town Clerk make out a Town Report, giving a brief history of the Location. This was done by the Clerk, and being submitted for revision, the Clerk was instructed by the Selectmen and others to have the First Report of the Location contain only a brief mention of facts which will be of use and interest to future Town officers:

Hart's Location was granted in 1772 by Governor Wentworth to Thomas Chadbourne for military services in the French and Indian wars, and afterwards sold to Richard Hart, from whom it takes its name. In 1770 the Crawfords blazed the trails, and the first highway was a Toll Road for which the father of John O. Cobb collected the toll at the lower gate of the Notch. In 1793 the old Willey House became a tavern. This highway has lately been kept up by semi-annual appropriations by the State.

In 1896 the Location voted $200 towards building the new iron bridge across Sawyers River. In 1905 the Location deeded to the State all rights it might have in this highway of two rods in width. In 1909, the Town Clerk was authorized to ask for a change in its location for 3,300 feet below the new iron bridge, so to eliminate the dangerous railroad crossings below it. In 1909, Gov. Quimby and Council looked it over and in the fall of 1910 the grading was done for the State by Chas. H. Morey.

While the Saco Valley Lumber Co., was at Carrigain, the Location was obliged to build a school house there in which several terms of school were taught. When they suspended operations there the school house was sold and the writer was sent to Concord to arrange with the State Superintendent of Instruction Folsom about giving our few scholars school privileges, and how to use our school money. Since then we have sent our scholars to Bartlett grammar school, the Location paying their tuition, and also their fare on Maine Central Railroad trains.

In relation to our taxes: When the P. & O. R. R. built through the Notch in the early seventies, the nine miles from Bemis to Crawfords with its 116 foot grade to the mile, three hundred feet above the Saco, its ledge cuts, trestles, etc., cost over $1,000,000 and its annual cost of maintenance and operation being so great, we often get back from the State in Railroad Tax, a balance sufficient to pay our County Tax. The Morey estate was once owned by such tax payers as the Willeys, Crawfords, Parkers, Gliddens, Lawrences, and Cobbs, but, in 1842, Dr. Samuel Bemis got possession by way of mortgage of the old Abel Crawford House lot and bought out other owners. He built the stone house at Bemis, which station was named for him. At his death he willed all his property to George H. Morey, who had been for years his manager, and who bought up other lots until now, his son, Chas. H. Morey, pays the taxes on it all except the Hiram Parker place owned by Edward Cobb, and one third of the valuation on the timber lands by A. M. Stahl, who bought the soft wood timber. This estate has been valued as low as $13,500 with taxes as low as $62 but the County Commissioners valued it over in 1907, and the State Board of Equalization investigated in 1906 and it was decided that we were not paying our proportion of the State and County taxes for which reason the Selectmen put the valuation up to about $50,000.

In 1888 the Location voted to tax the Maine Central Railroad for their 5 section houses, which the Selectmen valued at $2,000. One of them has since been torn down but the Selectmen kept the valuation of $2,000 on the other four. Our rate of taxation has been as high as $1.36 per 100 and as low as $.36 per 100, depending on amount of school money to be raised. The poll tax has been from $.36 to $1.36.

Our State tax has been as low as $54, and is now $150. Our railroad and Savings Bank taxes has been sufficient to give us back a balance from the State of from $10 to $212.57.

At first we were classed with Bartlett and other towns for a Representative to the General Court at Concord, but are alone now. The first Representative was Abel Crawford, the next was George W. Tufts. Hiram Parker, for years our Town Clerk and Justice of the Peace, also represented us, and John O. Cobb, for years a Selectman, was our Delegate to the Constitutional Convention of 1876. Geo. H. Morey was several times elected as Representative, and was many years Selectman and Treasurer. George R. Woodman was sent as our Representative in 1894. M. E. Murch was our Delegate to the Constitutional Convention of 1902, and Roland B. Chase was elected Representative in 1908. We are not again entitled to representation until 1920. Among others who have been Town officers during the past are, Edward B. Cobb, Irving S. Chase, Edward S. Whitehall of the Morey estate, Milton E. Jones and Joseph F. Smith, lumbermen; James E. Mitchell, railroad section foreman; W. W. Burnell, P. P. Burnell and S. E. Burnell, railroad section foreman. Our permanent population is usually about 40, and our check list of voters from 7 to 21, and votes cast at elections from 20 in 1894 to 4 or 5 in 1908 and 1910.

List of legal voters in Hart's Location, April 1st, 1911, with their occupations and P. O. addresses:

R. B. Chase, Boston, formerly section man.

L. S. Evans, Crawfords, foreman section 129, M. C. R. R.

H. T. Hartshorn, Bemis, superintendent for the C. H. Morey Lumber Co.

Although we are represented at Concord some time during a century, and under ruling of Direct Primary Law are deprived of participation in the political conventions and are never drawn on juries, etc. We educate our scholars, pay our taxes, and have never cost the County or State a cent for paupers or criminals.

Respectfully submitted,

M. B. MURCH, Town Clerk.
